

Gardening To Protect Warwick's Waters

Gearing up for spring and summer gardening? Join us to learn how you can maximize your gardening efforts while also making sure to minimize your impact on Warwick's ponds and beaches. Experienced gardener Cindy Gianfrancesco will be on hand to share gardening and lawn care tips, and Southern Rhode Island Conservation District staff will share information and answer questions about their partnership project with the City of Warwick, which has the goal of reducing stormwater pollution to Warwick Pond and Oakland Beach.

These events are free, but please RSVP by emailing SimpleStepsWarwick@gmail.com. The same event will be presented each evening.
